Note: Release, source and cause information is based on each confirmed UST pollution complaint (i.e., release site) reported to DEQ not by individual tank systems at the release sites. UST pollution complaints may have multiple sources or causes.

Source and cause data were collected using local (building/fire) code official reports, consultant reports, and staff field observations.

No data is reported in cases where the Source is 'unknown'.

The public can obtain site-specific UST information from the DEQ's seven Regional Offices which are the official file of record for UST inspection and release information. Contact information for DEQ's Regional Offices is available from the following location: <http://www.deq.virginia.gov/Locations.aspx>
